All throughout Caribbean islands (West Indies), there are more than 12 different universities List of MCI Approved Universities. The list includes American University of Antigua (AUA) managed by the most famous Indian medical University Manipal University. All these universities prepare you to be a Medical professional to USA. However, you have to be very careful in the selection of the universities. USMLE is extremely strict on the rules on credit hours earned at various stages of the program. Spartan Health and Science University gives full 142 credit hours during the pre medical course ensuring smooth intake during residency as per USMLE compliance.

The current match ratio for resident-ship at Spartan is 82% (You need to score 230+ at USMLE Step 1 exam to ensure your PG seat in USA). The success ratio of passing USMLE exams from Spartan is more than 95% (To pass, you need only 192 Marks at USMLE Step 1 exam). It means, USMLE exams are cracked very successfully to get into the PG in Medical in USA.

Many smaller universities would put you in trouble over such important issues. Of course, there are far superior universities as well such as Ross Medical University / AUCMED at St Marteen or even AUA at Antigua Islands (Owned and managed by Manipal University of India). However, these top ranked US programs costs more than Rs. 1.50 crore only towards the tuition fees! The student to faculty ratio is maintained at 20:1 at Spartan health and Science university, St Lucia as per USMLE specification to ensure high teaching standards and superb reputation among the US hospitals to get maximum calls for residency!
